Foreword...

"There's rosemary, that's for remembrance; and pansies, that's for thoughts"—and the CAVALIER, our school annual, is for them both.

This annual has cost us untold hours of anxiety and labor; but in years to come, if these dusty pages shall awaken fond recollections and recall visions of beloved faces, if it shall cause a longing for old High School days to come surging through our hearts; then we shall have not labored in vain.

To our faculty, students and many friends, we wish to express our deep appreciation for their help and encouragement.

THE CAVALIER Staff commends this book to your clemency for its members are "Poor, weak mortals, after all."

Dedication...

With gratitude and humility, this CAVALIER is dedicated to the former students of Oceana who gave their lives for their country in World War II.

CLASS POEM

The light of knowledge before us
Shines bright and crystal clear.
It is handed to us with reverence
From the hands of yester year.

Alas, we part to follow its rays,
Where'er they may lead,
For some to Earth's highest honors,
For others some simpler deed.

The World that is set before us
Is a world that is torn by strife.
The beam of truth must be polished
That our goal may be gained in life.

Wherever its rays may lead us
May we follow without fear,
And strive to leave behind us
A light that is still more clear.

BETTIE BAILEY.

Class History

On the morning of September 7, 1943, when eighty-five of us prepared for entering high school, our minds were filled with questions, and our hearts were filled with hopes. Would high school be as wonderful as we had imagined? Were those reports which we had heard of high school life really true?

Many things were strange and exciting during those first few weeks of school. The sophomores, who had painted our faces and had paddled some of us, seemed to know so much more than we. Our schedules were very confusing; and whenever classes changed, we were lost in the scuffle and found ourselves in the wrong classrooms. Our sponsors, Miss Gornto and Mrs. Peterson, worked patiently with us trying to bring order out of chaos. Many of us had come to high school believing in all play and no work. One by one we were convinced by Miss Mallory, Mrs. Kicklighter, and the other faculty members that work was necessary.

By September, the timid, fearful class of the past year, having developed a virulent case of Sophomoritis, gave the incoming freshmen a vigorous initiation from which we derived a great deal of satisfaction.

As sophomores we were glad to be given seats nearer the front of the auditorium so that we could hear as well as see what was going on. More important still, we were allowed to eat lunch third instead of fourth.

It was a pleasure to welcome Anne Lee Baum, Mary Kruse, Marion McAndrews, Ann White and Pat Rich into our group. However, we missed Bobby Boothe, Helen Lewis, Anne Leary, Marie Nunly, Jud Hill, Louis Philhower, Frank Dean, and Donald Ritz. Connie Kontopanos and Jimmy Midgette served as our class presidents that year, and Miss Turner succeeded Mrs. Peterson as one of our sponsors.

In September, 1945, we were sorry to learn that Ellen Smith, Albert Barron, Jack Castleman, Bobby Meade, Bobby Maser, and Chuck Baker would not be members of our class, but at the same time we were glad to have Norman Scott, Sonny Moore, Clareen Winfield, and Rosemary Kernan join us. That year Irene Holloman and Jimmy Midgette were our class presidents, and Donald Bishop and Howard Aydtlett were our representatives on the Student Council.

It was in our junior year that we first had the privilege of using the cafeteria in the new elementary building, which was an attractive addition to our school plant.

Pride filled our hearts when we saw Anne Lee Baum and Joyce Heberlin play basketball on the first team. It was a great thrill to see Lanky Allen, Sonny Malbon, Dave Kunkler, Billy McCloud, and Clyde Gayle playing on the football team of our school. We showed our mental as well as our athletic ability when about twenty-five of us were invited to become members of the Beta Club.

When the responsibility of the Junior-Senior Banquet fell upon our shoulders, we banded together under the leadership of our sponsors, Miss Gornto and Mr. Bradburne, and presented a variety show to help finance it. We decided to hold the banquet at the Gay Manor Hotel on May 24th. What fun we had preparing the favors, place cards, and speeches! When the night finally arrived, the banquet proved to be a great success. The girls looked lovely in their evening dresses, and everyone present seemed to enter into the spirit of the occasion. It was a fitting climax to our junior year.

Ah! At last, we were Seniors, floating on clouds and enjoying those wonderful senior privileges; such as, not having to report to homeroom after school, sitting at the front in assembly, and being able to enter the front door in the morning upon arriving at school.

We really missed having Betty Parsons, Clyde Gayle, Velma Youmans, Anita Rubin, Dickie McGrath, Sonny Moore, Jack Barrett, Sally Alspach, Patsy Futrell, Pat Rich, Anne Gregg, Reba Whitehurst, and Clareen Winfield with us. At our elections we chose Ottis Bishop as president of the Student Body, Donald Pidgeon, president of the Senior Class;

Class History—Continued

Donald Bishop, vice-president; Irene Holloman, secretary; Anne Lee Baum, treasurer; and Jane Dill and Lucius Grant, Student Council Representatives. Our class was sponsored by Miss Gornto and Miss Francis.

Early in the school year, when Mr. Saunders came to take our orders for rings and invitations, we realized at last that we were seniors. A few days after Mr. Saunders' visit, we met and elected the annual staff. Eileen Gregory, the Editor-in-Chief; Anne Lee Baum, Assistant Editor; Irene Holloman, Business Manager; Connie Kontopanos, Assistant Business Manager, and other members of the class worked many hours after school to make the annual a success.

"Here Comes the Prince" was selected as our senior play. Although it demanded sacrifices of our time, we felt well rewarded by its success.

When the grades for our first three and a half years were averaged, we found that Ann Culpepper led the class, and that Irene Holloman had the second highest average.

Now that this exciting year is drawing to a close, we find that many of us are sorry that the time has come to graduate. We hate to leave our fellow students with whom we have shared such wonderful times. As we travel the long road ahead, we shall carry with us many pleasant memories of Oceana to gladden our hearts through the years.

CONNIE KONTOPANOS.

Class Prophecy

It is 1957. How time flies! When we left Oceana High School, we thought the day would never come for our tenth reunion; but here we are, Anne, Irene, and June Fay, registered at the Waldorf-Astoria just two days before the great event. For weeks, we have been thrilled over the thoughts of seeing everyone again.

Since several of the members of our class are now located in New York, we plan to spend these two days renewing old acquaintances.

Our first visit is to the Ice Cube, located on East 52nd street. Here we see the Bishop brothers, Ottis and Donald, direct their trained penguins in an ice show. These talented penguins were discovered by Admiral Lannie Woolford during his recent assignment in the Antarctic.

Just as we pass the famous Stork Club, we see none other than New York's famous playboy, Johnny Midgette as he steps from his limousine with Vivian Baines, the bobby pin heiress. William Garrison is Johnny's chauffeur and body guard.

For a bit of cultural entertainment, we go to Carnegie Hall for a concert by Eileen Gregory. Included on the program are a number of her own compositions. In the crowd, we are surprised to see Pat McLean, who is a buyer for Swartz's Department Store.

The following evening, we are entertained at the stately Manly Mansion, where a reception is being given in our honor. Our host and hostess, Basil Manly and Mrs. Manly, the former Patricia Woody, greet us. Our wraps are taken by Gimbert, the butler.

Many memorable moments are recalled as we see so many of our old acquaintances. Anne Lee Rainey, New York's leading artist is escorted by Frank Smith, cartoonist.

As we move farther into the crowd, we see the celebrated photographer Donald Pidgeon, with his wife, the former Rita Ray Shirley, and their small son, Clay Pidgeon. Much of Mr. Pidgeon's time is taken in snapping pictures of the Broadway sophisticates, Anne Lee Baum and Frannie Griggs. Hester Holland, noted poet of our day, has cornered our prosperous publisher, Lucius Grant. With Lucius is his charming wife, the former Martha Hatchett, now a redhead.

Class Prophecy—Continued

Regretfully we make our departure reminding the Manlys of the reunion the next evening.

The next day we have lunch at Norman's Nifty Nook, owned and operated by Norman Scott and Peggy Gregg. Peggy serves us a delightful meal. Mrs. Wesley Payne, whom we knew as Connie Kontopanos, is also having lunch there. Wesley is now playing professional basketball at Madison Square Garden. Connie tells us of Sonny Malbon and of his successful enterprise, Malbon's Muscle Makers, located in Indianapolis. Mr. Malbon has trained numerous fighters, including Pee Wee Morse of Seatack, Va., featherweight champion of the world. One of Sonny's distinguished patrons is the noted banker, Howard Aydlott, who still hasn't given up hope of acquiring brawn.

While waiting for the check, we pick up a "Washington Herald," and we are surprised to find that Jane Dill is the new Editor-in-Chief and Bettie Bailey is her first assistant. The headlines scream that Helen Pantone of Beverly Hills, California, is now being sued for divorce by her fifth husband, rodeo star Dan Gallup, for making his life miserable with her 98-cent look. We turn to "Whispers by Ward," a gossip column, peppered with spicy news. Glancing down the column we note that the star of the MGM hit, "Furnal's Follies" is our school chum, Colleen Evans, whose legs have gathered fame as they have carried her through the years.

In the afternoon we stop by to see Margaret Smith and Estelle Hayman, who are doing wonderful work as directors of a settlement house.

The rest of the day passes swiftly, and we return to the Waldorf. We arrive a trifle early for the reunion but are in time for a broadcast from Station OHS, sponsored by the Jordan Bubble Gum Co. Our able announcer, Billy McCloud, brings us the latest news of Oceana and vicinity. He tells us that Mr. Owen has recently been succeeded by Robert Lindsley, who has revolutionized the whole educational system. Our old faculty has been supplemented by Rosemary Kernan, teacher of Latin; George Kindell, Professor of Mathematics, and Anne White, Chemistry Instructor. Announcer McCloud says that the El Cairo is under the new management of Catherine Joynes; and that the renowned trio, Keith Bailey, Milo Kusnir, and John Stone, draws a large crowd nightly.

During the broadcast, many of our classmates arrive. Everyone talks at once, but we manage to catch bits of the news. Gladys Capps and Marion McAndrews tell some exciting experiences which they had on their recent trip abroad. While in Paris, they saw Lanky Allen, who is now a world famous designer of women's clothes.

Lela Fisher, Dean of Mary Brooks College, is present at our reunion. She informs us that Joyce Heberlin has been appointed Ballet Instructor at the college.

From Margie Allen, who has just completed the interior decoration of the Thorne estate at Virginia Beach, we learn that Miss Susan Dodson has been unanimously selected as Miss Virginia Beach of 1957. Margie also reports that Anne Norfleet has a quiet country home near Ocean View. She has nothing to occupy her time except her toddling twins.

We interrupt a heated conversation between the newly installed president of the C.I.O., Harriet Trigg, and Senator William Tudor from Virginia. Harriet apologizes for neglecting to inform us that the scheduled wrestling bout at Madison Square Garden between Killer Kunkler and Miraculous Moseley prevented them from joining us on this occasion.

Patty Waterfield reports that she is business manager for Alice Ferebee's super service station at Miami Beach. We are sorry to hear that Patty's typing speed has fallen to one hundred and fifty words per minute.

The floor show for the evening was furnished by Tschakowsky Tarrh and his superb dance team, Holt and McChesney.

In order to make a complete report on the class of '47, we, the writers of this article, confess the following: Ann Culpepper is the first woman warden of Sing Sing. Irene Holloman is the author of the book, Diets for Overweights. June Fay Smith conducts her orchestra on the weekly radio program, "Swing and Sway with June Fay."

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of nineteen hundred and forty-seven of Oceana High School, being of our usual unsound minds, do make, publish, and declare this our Last Will and Testament.

SECTION I. To the Administration:

ITEM I—To our School Board and our Superintendent, we leave our thanks, for not requiring us to complete twelve years of school.

ITEM II—To our Principal, we leave our sincere gratitude for his guidance through the past four years. We hope that he will forgive us for the small misdemeanors which we committed trying to make school more exciting.

ITEM III—To the members of our beloved faculty, who look upon our departure with smiles of joy and signs of relief, we leave our greatest sympathy for their gallant attempts to pour knowledge into our feeble minds. We hope they have the satisfaction of knowing that at least we tried to learn.

SECTION I. To the Classes:

ITEM I—To the cute li'l eighth graders, we leave our knowledge of places to get chewing gum so they won't have to scrape up their own. We also leave our talent for hiding behind a textbook while we read the adventures of "Superman." We hope that they don't get their camouflage upside down!

ITEM II—To the eighth grade boys, we leave our wheaties and milk, so they, too, can make the football team and be like Lanky Allen and Dave Kunkler.

ITEM III—To the Sophomore class, we leave our tendency to make a little knowledge suffice in the classroom; may this get them into the Beta Club. To them, we leave also our school spirit and pep, with the right to terrorize the opposing teams with their yells. We hope that they do their best to keep things stirred up, remembering a little noise helps our team win. To them we leave our priority in the halls; we dare anyone to get in their way.

ITEM IV—To the Sophomore girls, we leave our position as glamour girls of Oceana.

ITEM V—To the Junior class, we leave our seats in the assembly, our dignified position as seniors, our privileges (?), and our textbooks with their many helpful notes.

SECTION III. To the Juniors:

ITEM I—Mary Brooks leaves her punctuality to Ann Gallup.

ITEM II—Billy Tudor leaves his book "Ten Easy Lessons in Love Letter Writing" to Douglas Shelton.

ITEM III—Anne White leaves her ability to flit gracefully from class to class to Fred Clarke.

ITEM IV—Lanky Allen leaves his art of charming the girls to Bodie Baum.

ITEM V—Howard Aydlott leaves his quiet ways to Bunny Woolford.

ITEM VI—Barbara Thorne and Virginia McChesney leave their advice on "How to Win a Husband" to Joanne Phillips and Shirley Harris.

ITEM VII—Donald Bishop leaves his place in the 4-H Club to Bobby Crosswhite, so he, also, may grow his own victory garden.

ITEM VIII—Betty Ward leaves her voice to Joe Spruill so that he can keep up the team's morale.

ITEM IX—Poe Kindell leaves to Jimmy Wilson his knowledge of Spanish, and his book in case Jimmy needs it.

Last Will and Testament—Continued

ITEM X—Joyce Heberlin leaves her sarcasm to "Lovey" McGrath and Paula King.

ITEM XI—Marilyn Furnal leaves her "A's" to Bill White.

ITEM XII—"Pee Wee" Morse leaves his job as water boy and manager of the football team to James Speight. He wants him to work his way up on the team.

ITEM XIII—Harriet Trigg and Catherine Joynes leave their vim, vigor, and vitality to Joanne Aydtlett.

ITEM XIV—Lela Fisher and Alice Ferebee leave to Evelyn Whitehurst and Ann Davis their recipe for shunning the boys instead of always having them near.

ITEM XV—Lucius Grant leaves his girls and his little black book to K. Z. Bowden and Tommy Currie. Lucius hopes that K. Z. and Tommy will appreciate his taste.

ITEM XVI—Frannie Griggs leaves her smiles to Jean Ratly.

ITEM XVII—Norman Scott leaves his army pension to Edward Walton, if Norman receives it by June, 1947.

ITEM XVIII—Susan Dodson leaves her wealth of excuses to go home to Earlean Barco and Betty Brown.

ITEM XIX—Renie Holloman leaves her ability to look over doors to Ray Gray and Bruce Jones.

ITEM XX—Dave Kunkler leaves his many monograms to Victor White.

ITEM XXI—Eileen Gregory leaves her locker with its pleasant memories to Jack Werntz so he will not be lonesome.

ITEM XXII—John Stone leaves—no regrets.

ITEM XXIII—Anne Lee Baum and Margie Allen leave their basketball positions to Camille De Foras and Jeanette Brown.

ITEM XXIV—Dan Gallup leaves his calm and peaceful attitude to Harvey Lambka.

ITEM XXV—Patsy Woody leaves her list of telephone numbers to Dana McLean.

ITEM XXVI—June Fay Smith leaves her office as historian of the Beta Club to Evelyn Gimbert.

ITEM XXVII—Bettie Bailey leaves her place in the Hall of Fame to Nicky Langston.

ITEM XXVIII—Frank Smith leaves his magic touch in basketball to Tommy Caffrey.

ITEM XXIX—Donald Pidgeon leaves his dramatic ability to Dickie Munford. Dickie will need all the gifts he can get to finish school.

ITEM XXX—Martha Hatchett leaves her bottle of peroxide to Ann McNamara, so Ann, too, may have natural blonde hair.

ITEM XXXI—Gifford Moseley leaves his excess weight to Billy Hatchett.

ITEM XXXII—Bobby Tarrh leaves his mischievousness to Bunky Thornton.

ITEM XXXIII—Minor Jordan and Peggy Gregg leave their ability to pop gum to Edna Barnes.

ITEM XXXIV—Marion McAndrews leaves her quiet manner to Mary Ann Brown.

ITEM XXXV—Clement Gimbert leaves his scientific ability and his definition of a crystal to John Dyer.

ITEM XXXVI—Estelle Hayman and Margaret Smith leave their dancing ability to Janetta Henson and Lucille Powell.

ITEM XXXVII—Mert Holt leaves his red locks to Fred Ridge.

Last Will and Testament—Continued

ITEM XXXVIII—Anne Lee Rainey leaves her place as art editor of the newspaper and annual to her sister, Virginia.

ITEM XXXIX—Sonny Malbon leaves Luther and the rest of the family to Oceana so that the Malbon name will remain popular with the faculty and pupils in future years.

ITEM XL—Rosemary Kernan and Pat McLean leave their long winded conversations to Dor Spence and Helen Stone.

ITEM XLI—Billy Garrison leaves his secret of how to take plane and solid geometry in the same year, to all the poor geometry students who need it.

ITEM XLII—Patty Waterfield leaves her way with Miss Gornro to Russell Richardson, hoping that he will finally pass algebra.

ITEM XLIII—"Casanova" Kusnir leaves his study hall technique to Richard Naille.

ITEM XLIV—Keith Bailey leaves his locker to Glenn Dill hoping that he, too, will be fortunate enough to share it with three girls.

ITEM XLV—Gladys Capps leaves her giggles to Becky Hooper. Gladys hopes her gift will make life more cheery for Becky.

ITEM XLVI—Wesley Payne leaves his long arms to Sonny Davis so he will also be able to score at least 21 points in a basketball game.

ITEM XLVII—Colleen Evans leaves her stately manner to Bernadette Hughes.

ITEM XLVIII—Basil leaves his "Manly" physique to poor little Earl Ohlinger.

ITEM XLIX—Ottis Bishop and Jimmy Midgette leave—they hope!

ITEM L—Johnny Midgette leaves his history book to George Jones. Johnny thinks that you may be able to become a senior next year if you use his book.

ITEM LI—Bobby Lindsley leaves his courteous manner to all the Junior boys. We hope the teachers appreciate this.

ITEM LII—We would like to leave our perfect girl to all the Junior boys. She has Jane Dill's legs; Vivian Baines' eyes; Rita Ray Shirley's hair; Helen Anne Fantone's figure; Ann Culpepper's complexion; Hester Holland's ambition; Connie Kontopanos' friendliness; Anne Norfleet's disposition.

ITEM LIII—We would like also to leave a perfect boy to Junior girls, but we haven't been able to find one.

The Junior Class returned to Oceana in 1946 ready to begin this eventful year under the leadership of Miss Bailey, Mrs. Kicklighter, and Miss Reagan.

Our plans for the all important Junior-Senior banquet began to shape up almost immediately after school started. Nearly one hundred juniors and their sponsors joined forces and produced an hilarious Halloween party—complete with spooks,

Something new has been added—and we are “it!” Our class introduced the 8th grade to our school. Perhaps, for several weeks we did find it necessary to stop someone in the hall and whisper, “This is second bell, isn’t it?” “Does Math. 8 meet in room 27?”

Cavalier Staff

When we were elected to the staff of The Cavalier, we felt exceedingly incapable of producing an annual. Not a one of us had had any experience on an annual staff. The road ahead seemed dark and uncertain.

With fear and trembling we set to work, lest we disappoint our fellow students who had enough confidence in us to believe that this annual would be better than those of previous years.

As we worked many of our fears vanished. We found our fellow students helpful, our faculty cooperative, the photographer patient, and our many business friends most generous. The task which we thought would be such a burden, became a source of great pleasure.

We hope that the Seniors, who entrusted this book to us, as well as all other subscribers, will be pleased with its contents.

Lighthouse Staff

The words, "Get that copy in by the dead line" were familiar to all the members of The Lighthouse Staff. The newspaper had a very successful year through the efficiency of the staff. The reporters were especially gifted in discovering news, and the typists worked unusually hard. This year, in addition to the regular issues, The Lighthouse Staff published a "Football Revue," which was received with a heartening response.

The Student Council of Oceana High School, often referred to as the "Junior Faculty," serves as a clearing house for the many problems which arise in school. The members of the Student Council help to initiate and interpret certain policies of the school.

The Student Council consists of a president, who is also president of the Student Body, the president, and the representative from each of the homerooms in the high school.

This national honor society has for its purpose the promotion of character, scholarship, and leadership among high school students. Membership in the Oceana chapter is open to students having an average of eighty-eight or better on the first two years of high school work. Although the Beta Club is an honorary organization, it strives to be of service to the school of which it is a part. To avoid having all work and no play, this club sponsored a delightful homecoming dance at Christmas.

Home Economics Club

This year's Home Economics Club feels that it has accomplished several objectives that are worthwhile to its members and the school.

The most important of its aims was to become affiliated with the State and National Chapters of the Future Homemakers of America. It was a happy day when the members received their little silver pins showing that they were members of such a large organization. The constitution of this organization requires that each club assume some project for the improvement of the school or the community. Our club selected for its aim the improvement of the lunch room. The receipts from a basketball game between the 2nd and 5th bell gym classes made this possible.

We sent twelve members to the district meeting at Portlock, at which time Joyce Heberlin was elected district reporter. Our club was proud to be represented on the district executive board.

The Orchestra is small when compared with the number of students who are enrolled in Oceana School, but these eighteen members are working diligently so that in the near future the orchestra will be one of the outstanding organizations in the school.

The director, Mr. Cantwell, is planning to organize a large county orchestra composed of the various school orchestras. This orchestra will provide excellent training for the young musicians and by its concerts will contribute greatly to the cultural life of our county.

The Christmas candlelight program, "Carols of the Nations" was the outstanding event in the club's school year. The members, dressed for the first time in their new choir robes, rendered beautiful selections illustrative of many centuries of sacred music.

The Spring Music Festival held in Norfolk was the second great event of the year. This, also, required many weeks of rehearsal in order that the club might compete with the neighboring schools.

The members have enjoyed singing and have grown in their appreciation of choral music.

FOOBALL

The "Cavaliers" opened their 1946 football season at Oceana with a 7 to 6 victory over Alexander Park. Alexander Park scored in the second quarter, but the "Cavaliers" came back in the fourth and scored on a pass from Malbon to Allen.

The Oceana "Cavaliers" journeyed to Kempsville to defeat the "Blue Devils" 27 to 6 for the Princess Anne County title. Woolford scored twice, while Caffery and Malbon tallied one touchdown each.

The "Cavaliers" met the Morrison "Farmers" in Apprentice Field at Newport News. The "Farmers" defeated the "Cavaliers" 33 to 0.

In a hard fought game at Oceana, Broad Creek defeated the "Cavaliers" 6 to 0. Kunkler, at center, was outstanding.

Oceana met a heavier Suffolk team at Suffolk and returned home the loser 27 to 0.

The "Cavaliers" lost a hard fought battle to Churchland 32 to 14. Caffery and Allen scored in the second half for Oceana. Caffery's passing was sensational.

At Oceana on a wet field, the "Cavaliers" went down in defeat to Cradock 19 to 6. Oceana's only score was made in a pass from Caffery to Woolford in the third quarter.

The "Cavaliers" lost to the Norview "Pilots" at Norview 20 to 7. McCloud scored on a pass from Caffery.

Oceana defeated Portlock at Oceana. Bishop scored on a pass from Kindell, and Allen scored from the one yard line.

The "Cavaliers" lost to South Norfolk, a much stronger foe. The score was 34 to 0.

Girls' Basketball

The basketball season of 1946-47 opened on December 10th under the leadership of Miss Burroughs, who had so ably coached the team during the two preceeding years. The large number of girls who reported for practice contributed much to the group left from the previous season. Even though the team did not win a large number of games, its members should be complimented for their gallant efforts and outstanding sportsmanship.

The Oceana Cavaliers began their season with four returning letter men and a number of good prospects. The former service men; Wesley Payne, Milo Kusnir, and Keith Bailey, were valuable additions to the team. In spite of the best efforts of the players and the coach, Mr. Tomko, the first five games of the season were lost. However, when the return game with Norview was played, the tide turned bringing victory to Oceana. This was followed by another victory over their old rival, Kempsville. The rest of the season was more successful.

The Junior Varsity team opened its season after only one week of practice. Both the game with South Norfolk and the one with Cradock were serious defeats. After the team had gained strength through practice, it gave Alexander Park, Portlock, and the returning South Norfolk boys stiff opposition that resulted in two victories and one close score. On a number of occasions the Junior Varsity engaged in tight scrimmage with the Senior team. These encounters were of much value to both groups, and a source of great delight to the Junior Varsity when they finally succeeded in winning.

In 1946, Oeana was victorious in Group II, District I, by defeating Churchland, Cradock, Suffolk, Norview, and Alexander Park. As a result of their victory, they went to Charlottesville, where they won in the State Finals. As State Champions, the Sportman Shop of Norfolk awarded them a trophy, which will be permanently kept if the title is won for three consecutive years.

The team this year, with C. M. Tomko, as coach, hopes to be successful in defending the title its second year.

Benedicite

Turn my pages—never mind
If you like not all you find;
Think not all the grains are gold
Sacramento's sand banks hold.

Best for worst shall make amends,
Find us, keep us, leave us friends.
Till, perchance we meet again,
Benedicite — — — — — Amen.
